Destroyed by Fire Which Sweeps Noted Hot Springs Resort

OVER MILE IN LENGTH

Gov. Hays of Arkansas on Scene and May Order Out Militia to Patrol Burned District—City Plants Destroyed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 6.—Stunned by the extent of the damage wrought by last night's fire which swept more than fifty city blocks here with an estimated loss of $6,000,000, the people of Hot Springs today took first steps toward rehabilitation.

Mayor McClelland accepted Governor Hays' offer of two companies of state militia and ordered a mass meeting of the citizens for later in the day when it will be decided whether the city will call on outside cities for help.

It is estimated about 2,500 persons were made homeless by the fire. The majority of these are being temporarily camped in the vicinity of the Oaklawn racetrack and state fair grounds.

Grand avenue, leading from the burned area to the fair grounds, today presented a picturesque sight. Hundreds of families with what little they saved from the ruins were gathered along the road way gradually working their way to the camp grounds. The militia will aid these people and guard the devastated district.

There is no danger of a water famine, according to the authorities. Even if the supply were cut off there are numerous cold springs throughout the city furnishing sufficient water for all purposes. It is announced today that the city will be without electric lights for sixty days.

The Sentinel-Record, the morning newspaper here barely escaped destruction by the fire last night and did not issue its regular editions. The New Era, and Daily News, the afternoon papers, are without power and unable to publish.

Business generally is at a standstill today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 6.—Under direction of Governor George W. Hays, the task of providing for those made homeless by the fire, which last night destroyed property valued at millions of dollars in the eastern section of Hot Springs began at day-break today. Several volunteer firemen were working in the blackened ruins when it burst into flames again.

It had not been determined this morning whether the militia would be called out. Under order of Mayor McClelland, all saloons are closed and so far there has been no disorder. Two hundred and fifty citizens sworn in as a special police force at a mass meeting held last night while the fire was at its height, patrolled the fire-swept district this morning.

The fire started in a negro's cabin at 3:30 yesterday afternoon was slowly dying out at the foot of West Mountain, the southern extremity of Hot Springs, at midnight after reducing to a smoldering mass of wreckage an area more than a mile in length and from seven to ten blocks wide in the eastern section of the city. The monetary loss is roughly estimated at $10,000,000.

Governor Hays arrived in Hot Springs late last night and probably will order a military patrol of the burned district today. United States troops also are expected from Little Rock to add to the guard on the military reservation.

In the path of the flames were manufacturing houses, hotels, a number of more pretentious residences and public buildings, which are in ashes. It is estimated that 2,000 persons are homeless.

So far as can be ascertained, there were no fatalities and the few persons hurt suffered only minor injuries.

Among the buildings destroyed were: The city's light, water and power plants, county court house, high school building, Park hotel, Moody hotel, Princess hotel; St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad station and shops and the Arkansas sanitarium.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Klapachka, a retired druggist, who was found dead at his home in Cheviot recently, leaves $5,000 to Papstliche Collegium Josephinum, an institution for priests at Columbus, O.; $5,000 each to two local churches and $5,000 to the St. Aloysius church of Bridgeport, O. The estate is valued at $200,000.

Newark Citizens Will Soon Have Opportunity to Vote On Proposed Subway

Newark people will soon have the opportunity to decide whether or not the city shall enjoy the benefits of a million dollar improvement through the expenditure of more than $200,000. At a caucus meeting of the council held Friday evening, the service and law committees acting jointly as the council's subway committee prepared a report which will be submitted to council at an adjourned meeting to be held Monday night, placing final approval on the subway plans.

Engineers Maetzel & Simpson of Columbus, retained two years ago to act as the city's engineers in the grade crossing elimination project, placed the plans revised and approved by the railroad, before the committee Friday afternoon and explained in detail the differences in the estimates submitted by the railroad and those submitted by themselves.

The plans are acceptable to the railroad and to the city. The two years of conferences between the city officials and engineers and the railroad officials is now at the point where the city is ready to ask for a bond issue to pay its part of the improvement. In all probability, the committee's report will be adopted and approved at Monday night's meeting, a resolution will be adopted approving the plans and the way cleared to hurry through the legislation asking for a vote on the proposition to issue bonds.

Should the bond issue carry there will be ample time to get things in readiness to let the contract some time during the winter so the actual work of construction can be started next spring. Two years later, Newark people, North Enders, South Enders, West Enders and East Enders will be enjoying the benefits of one of the greatest improvements made since the city was laid out more than a century ago.

City officials were told Friday evening that the subway project would mean an expenditure of more than $200,000. Of this sum, the city of Newark participates in $85,000. The city's share will be 35 per cent, or approximately $29,750. As was stated above, this expenditure gives the city a permanent improvement valued in money at close to a million dollars but on which it is impossible to place a real estimate because of the many benefits which will accrue, though not apparent on the face of the proposition.

As a result of the many conferences, revision of plans, etc., the improvement as now planned is much better than that first offered in the preliminary plans as submitted almost two years ago.

Since that time, it has been agreed to raise the railroad tracks to a much higher point, thus doing away with much of the street grading as provided for in the earlier drawings.

The railroad has agreed to make a change in the freight handling facilities. The Pennsylvania company will move its freight station from its present location to a point between Fifth and Sixth streets. The B. and O. will move its freight sheds and yards to (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4.)

DAYTON JUDGE HOLDS WEIGHT LAW IS INVALID

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Dayton, Sept. 6.—The claim that the Ohio weights and measures law makes the state legislature the guardian of the pocketbook of the people; that the buying and selling by weight take up too much time; that the public is amply protected by official stamped measures, are among the claims and propositions regarded as good by the police court in declaring the weight and measure law unconstitutional and the dismissal yesterday of seventeen market men arrested on charges of violating the law.

The affidavits were filed by representatives of the state pure food commissioner's office. The cases will be carried to the higher courts.

FIRST TANGIBLE CLUE TO MURDER OF CHINAMAN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Sept. 6.—A love letter written to the white wife of Charles Sing, wealthy Chinese merchant, killed in his home last Tuesday night was found in the residence last night. It was penned by George Der Norn, a Chinese restaurant owner and begged her to flee with him to China. The letter is the first tangible clue to the murder.

The day following the crime Der Norn turned his establishment over to his friend and has not been seen. Detectives found photographs of the dead merchant torn to shreds. The pictures bore crimson stains. The searches also found postal card photographs of about fifty white girls and on most of them were appeals for money.

VICTIM OF STABBING IS DEAD

Director Abe's Assassination Is Regarded As a Political Crime

SENSATIONAL JAP PRESS

Had Attacked Abe and Other Foreign Office Officials—Assailants Escape in the Darkness After Being Pursued.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Tokio, Sept. 6.—Mortario Abe, director of the political bureau of the Japanese cabinet, died early this morning as the result of being stabbed yesterday. His assailants, who are believed to be students, lay in wait for him when he left his house in the evening while he was on the way to the railway station to meet Hsiao, minister to China, who has just been recalled from Peking. On his return Director Abe was attacked by two young men who ran out of an alley toward him. One of them seized him by the shoulders while the other plunged a short sword into his abdomen twice. The assassins escaped in the darkness without their identity being known.

It was not thought at first that the director's wounds were serious or would prove fatal, for they were promptly dressed after some passers-by had carried him to his home and called the surgeons.

The assassination of Director Abe is generally regarded as a political crime. He is believed to have been an indirect victim of the sensational Japanese press, which recently attacked him and other foreign office officials.

At a luncheon yesterday of the same group of agitators who formerly organized mass meetings against America, some of the speakers denounced Abe for misguiding Japanese policy in China.

Director Abe discussed the political situation with the correspondent of the Associated Press only three hours before the murder. He carefully went over the recent developments in Southern China, and characterized as "ridiculous" the reports that Japan intended immediately to occupy the Chinese city of Nanking. He bitterly assailed the inaccuracies and exaggerations of the Japanese press relative to both the Cantonia and the Chinese questions and said the newspapers were inspired with the idea of embarrassing and overthrowing the Japanese ministry.

Some shopkeepers who saw the assassins strike Director Abe pursued them but without success. They say that Abe walked heroically to the door of his residence where he collapsed in the arms of his son. The surgeons called hoped to save the patient by an operation but the wounds were too serious and he died as a result of hemorrhage.

DULLNESS IS REPORTED IN BOND MARKET

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Sept. 6.—Because of dullness of the bond market, two Ohio corporations today reported to the utilities commission that they have been unable to dispose of their securities at figures placed by the commission and asked for relief. The Valley Light and Power Company of Toledo, which was given authority to issue $450,000 of first mortgage bonds, reported that it had been unable to dispose of the bonds at not less than 80 per cent as ordered and asked permission to pledge the bonds already issued by the corporation.

The finance Gas and Electric company, which issued $27,000 of bonds under a recent order, finds itself in a similar situation. Both corporations aver that the bond market is scarce and that they have been unable to find bidders. The commission took both cases under advisement.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company reported to the utilities commission that an issue of $7,000,000 of bonds of series 1, had been sold on a basis of 98 5/8, thus realizing $6,725,000.

An issue of $7,000,000 of series A, was not needed, the road officials reported, and that the bonds for that series had been burned at the company's offices in Pittsburgh.

NEGOTIATIONS BY ZAMACONA TO AID PEACE PLANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Sept. 6.—The declaration by Federico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, that Manuel Zamacona is coming to the United States in an unofficial capacity is interpreted by officials here as meaning that the latter will not be invested with power to represent the Huerta government until the United States indicates its willingness to receive him.

The view prevails that to receive Zamacona would not conflict with the negotiations being conducted by John Lind, President Wilson's personal envoy in Mexico. Administration officials were inclined to the opinion that if Zamacona were received the parties here would supplement those carried on by Mr. Lind.

TORSO IS FOUND BY BOYS PLAYING ALONG RIVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Sept. 6.—Head, arms and legs missing the nude body of a woman found near Cliffside, N. J., yesterday half buried in the sands of the Hudson proved a mystery to detectives today. None of the severed members had been found along the river bank this morning, though a vigilant search was in progress. The theory was advanced that the body had been dissected in New York and the trunk alone cast into the river.

A sheet and pillow case wrapped around the trunk, furnished the slender clues on which the authorities are working to the pillow case, striped red and blue, was sewn a tag, apparently the makers, bearing the words, "Restwell Brand, 20x27, Chicago, 89 cents."

Boys who stumbled on the gruesome find notified John Flannery, proprietor of a nearby hotel, and Flannery told the police that his curiosity had been aroused a few nights ago by the putting of a motor boat which stopped near the spot, remained there a few minutes and then recrossed the Hudson.

INTENDS TO APPLY FOR BAIL

Thaw's Attorneys Return to Montreal On a Special Train

WILL BE NO DEPORTATION

Is Only Comment Prisoner's Chief Counsel Would Make—Habeas Corpus Writ is Returnable September 15.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Montreal, Sept. 6.—An application for bail will be the next move by the Thaw lawyers, who yesterday succeeded in securing from Justices Cross and Gervais a writ of habeas corpus returnable in Montreal on September 15, and an order preventing the immigration officials from deporting Thaw.

The legal contingent from Montreal handling Thaw's case, accompanied by "Gentleman" Roger Thompson, the chauffeur who drove the rescue car from Matteawan, returned on a special train this morning.

While the Thaw lawyers declined to commit themselves, it is thought that they will quietly appear in the court of king's bench either today or Monday and make their appeal for bail.

In legal circles here the belief is held that the Thaw case is now safely launched on its long trip to the privy council. E. Blake Robertson, assistant superintendent of the Dominion immigration department, who passed through Montreal on his way home at Ottawa, said: "Thaw will be deported, be sure of that."

Pressed for a statement, Mr. LaFlamme, of the Thaw counsel, said: "We licked Jerome and there will be no deportation. That's enough for the present."

"Foreign lawyers, foreign sheriffs and foreign bailiffs have hurt the dignity of the British court of law in the Thaw case," said Justice Gervais, one of the judges who yesterday issued the writ of habeas corpus and order prohibiting the immigration authorities from deporting Harry K. Thaw.

"British sovereignty is capable of taking care of any persons who appeals to our sense of justice," continued his Lordship. "It is not necessary for any lawyer, sheriff, bailiff or any other person to intervene in such a matter."

"We are quite capable of looking after any stranger that is within our midst. Mr. Thaw will appear before the full bench of the court of appeals and his case will be threshed out there according to its merits."

DIFFICULTY IN NEW PRIMARY ELECTION LAW

The first serious hitch in the working of the new primary elections law came Friday when it first came to a practical application in making nominations for municipal offices in small villages. The difficulty lies in the fact that few men in small villages are willing to carry petitions around in order to have candidates for office on the party tickets.

The situation in Granville is an example of what may be expected to occur in villages all over the state. Clerk Michael Sachs, in his office until 12 o'clock in the rain hope that petitions might be filed for some of the more important offices in the little village but Saturday morning came and Mr. Sachs went and saw a Granville petition appeared during the evening.

This brings up a question as to the filing of these offices. Not a single candidate has filed a petition for either mayor or council in Granville. Friday was the last opportunity. Mr. Sachs phoned to some of the prominent citizens of the village late in the evening, and the response he got from one citizen gives an idea of the situation. This man replied: "I don't know whether petitions are to be filed or not and what's more, I don't care."

It is probable that the present mayor and council will hold over for another term. The primary elections law explicitly prohibits the filing of petitions after the sixth day prior to the elections. Provision will have to be made for cases of this kind which will undoubtedly be a frequent occurrence.

Petitions filed for the village and township offices other than council and mayor are as follows:

Trustee—W. R. Jones, Fred Williams, W. S. Loyd.
Assessor—Wm. Litten, F. F. Robinson, J. P. Moore.
Treasurer—C. B. Slack.
Clerk—W. E. Clemons, Albert Norris.

"JOHN JONES" AND SIX POKER PLAYERS ARE ARRESTED

A quiet little poker game in a second floor room in North Fourth street was raided Friday night by Police Chief Sheridan and Police Captain Swank, six players being arrested, including the man charged with running the game. The latter gave his name as "John Jones," which was a tip to the others to give fictitious names. There had been nine men in the game, but three of them succeeded in evading the officers a short time before the entry was made. The keeper and players alike put up $15 for their appearance for trial Saturday morning. Pleas of guilty were entered and fines of $10 and costs were assessed in each case. The defendants arranged to pay the amounts.

BATS A BENEFIT TO HUMANITY SAYS EXPERT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, Sept. 6.—"Never bat a bat for he's battling for humanity," is not the title or refrain of a popular song, but it is in effect, the title of a warning issued today by the experts of the department of agriculture, against the killing of nocturnal winged fighters of insects. The warning was issued as the result of an accumulation of inquiries as to the best methods for exterminating bats.

Demand a Paint That Will Protect

When you are sure you have a paint that will properly protect the surface it covers, then it's time to consider cost, ease of application and color.

To protect properly, paint must be made with pure lead and zinc. It must be mixed with pure linseed oil and turpentine, to give spreading quality and to keep the coating elastic. On this depends the life of any paint.

Such a Paint is Aurora.

Surely it will cost more per gallon than any cheap variety—but by the job it will prove itself lower in price.

Aurora never chips or scales off; it becomes an integral part of the surface to which it is applied.

Any color or shade for any job.

Other equally good products of the same factory are Spartana, the faultless varnish stain; Spartan Art Wall Finish, a flat drying, washable paint for walls, and Spartan Floor Wax, ideal where a ball room finish is desired on any floor.
